OBJECTIVE:

The European Network for Shared Contraception (ENSC) organizes awareness workshops, conferences, and events on male contraception, on the ARGOS boat, or elsewhere.

The ENSC Association works to facilitate the creation of user committees throughout Europe, breaking down taboos and encouraging open dialogue on male contraception. We are convinced of the importance of education and information to enable everyone to assume responsibility for their fertility and make informed decisions regarding their reproductive health. These committees provide information on male contraception and create bridges between users and health professionals.

WHO WE ARE ?

Maxime LABRIT

With 6 years of experience in the field of male contraception, he is dedicated to improving contraceptive equity. As the inventor of the testicular contraceptive ring Andro-Switch®, he now conducts trainings, conferences, and awareness campaigns.

Stéphanie DUPIN

Former small business development consultant and Co-Founder of the first Cooperative Society dedicated to male contraception market access. She also serves as the president of the ENSC association and organizes the Mind Your Sperm Tour!

Jannick Böhm

Trained political scientist and member of Santé Sexuelle Suisse, where he is the focal point for male contraception. He also works in the fields of sex education, self-assertion, and self-defense. He leads the Herzsprung program, which advocates against violence in young couples among students aged 13 to 15.

Franka Frei

Author and journalist, specializing in gender issues. Following her German book "Periods Are Political: A Manifesto against the Menstrual Taboo," she gives lectures on the political dimensions of menstruation. Her recently released second book, "Überfällig. Warum Verhütung auch Männersache ist", focuses on contraceptive responsibility and ways to share it.
